

DXC KIDS DIVISION

A Parent Guide to Kids Modeling in Lagos

What parents should know before registering a child for modeling, confidence-building, camera readiness and age-appropriate creative development.

Kids modeling should be guided, not forced.

Many parents are interested in kids modeling, but they are also careful. That is a good thing. Children need a safe, structured and patient process - not pressure, confusion or unrealistic promises.

At DXC Kids Division, the focus is not rushing a child into the industry. The focus is helping children build confidence, expression, grooming, camera comfort, simple posing and presentation in a child-friendly way.

The strongest child models are not only beautiful children. They are children who are confident, guided, expressive and prepared.

That is what DXC Kids Division is built to develop.

More than posing. More than pictures.

A structured kids modeling program can help a child improve beyond the camera. The right environment can support confidence, communication, body awareness, listening to direction and creative expression.

01

Simple Posing

Basic poses, posture, facial expression and natural movement.

02

Camera Comfort

Helping children feel relaxed and confident during photoshoots.

03

Runway Basics

Walking, standing, turning and age-appropriate presentation.

04

Grooming

Neatness, outfit readiness and child-friendly presentation.

05

Confidence

Building self-belief, social confidence and expression.

06

Discipline

Listening, patience, timing and following direction.

Development comes before bookings.

A serious agency will not promise that every child will start getting jobs immediately. Bookings depend on the child's readiness, brand briefs, age, look, location, availability and the needs of each project.

What we can control is preparation: confidence, grooming, camera readiness, basic posing, parent guidance and a clearer introduction to the modeling environment.

- ☐ No forced fame culture
- ☐ No pressure on children
- ☐ Clear parent communication
- ☐ Age-appropriate guidance
- ☐ Professional image development

Use the holiday to build confidence and creative expression.

The holiday period is a strong time for children to learn something meaningful outside the normal school routine. Instead of spending the break only on screens, children can build confidence, camera comfort, presentation and creative discipline.

DXC Kids Division is for parents who want a structured, creative and confidence-building activity for their child in Lagos.

Best for children who enjoy fashion, photography, posing, performance, self-expression or need help becoming more confident.

What to prepare before registration.

You do not need to overthink it. Start with simple, clean information and allow the agency to guide the next step.

01 Recent clear pictures

Simple face and full-body pictures help us understand the child's current look.

02 Child's age and basic details

Age helps determine the right type of guidance and opportunities.

03 Parent contact details

All communication should be clear and parent-led.

04 Availability

Let us know if weekends, weekdays or holiday periods work better.

05 Child's personality

Tell us if the child is shy, expressive, playful, confident or still warming up.

The goal is not to make the child perfect. The goal is to understand the child and guide them properly.
